FAMILY FAITH SHARING

Sometimes the hardest Gospel texts to hear and live are the simplest. Today, our selection from the Gospel of Matthew contains such passages. Jesus, still preaching the “Sermon on the Mount,” acts in the role of a “new Moses,” a new kind of lawgiver. He builds on the commandments of old, but commands us to go deeper. Rather than retaliating for evil done to us, we are to offer no resistance, hand over our possessions, go the extra mile. Instead of hating our enemies, we are to love them. We are to pray for our persecutors.

In short, we’re commanded to practice a perfection which imitates the perfection of the Father in heaven.

Striving to “be perfect, just as our heavenly Father is perfect,” is our way to salvation. Without the graces we are offered in Jesus Christ, of course, such a task is impossible. But if we respond to the challenging commands of the Lord in today’s Gospel, we certainly are assured of God’s help to live them out.

-Franciscan Media

O Lord, I trust in your merciful love. My heart will rejoice in your salvation. I will sing to the Lord who has been bountiful with me.

Psalm 31
